Story 25 - THE COPS THAT STICK TOGETHER AND LIE TOGETHER

We have two cases here of bullying and threats by cops.

- Our first incident involves an elderly pensioner who was wrestled to the ground by POLICE CONSTABLE DAVID MORTON of the Derbyshire Constabulary. The matter was over a parking ticket, and Mr Gordon Slack 90yrs, was left bleeding with cuts to his face. The Row continued even after Paula Martin a police community support officer arrived. The pensioner's daughter saw the whole thing and she was also manhandled by Morton. He denies using excessive force and who is supporting his version? why of course, -- Paula Martin the PCSO?
- Case 2 - the recent headline case of POLICE CHIEF ALI DIZAEI a now disgraced cop, who has been under investigation for years, and for most of that time escaped going to jail for corruption. This would not be so appalling if it were not for the fact that this man had great power and was a COMMANDER at SCOTLAND YARD. He was in a corruption scandal seven years ago accused of corruption and taking bribes, but the prosecution failed and he walked away with an£80,000 payout. Strangely enough, it was this little case that was to be his undoing. In a restaurant he was approached by web-designer Al- Baghdadi whom he owed money to. The encounter turned ugly as The Commander did not like being shown up or having his authority thrown aside by this ordinary citizen. Threats ensued from the Commander who then used his power to have the man arrested and thrown in a cell. He then fabricated a story of assault against himself and used the police force to back up his claim. They of course did, except for the ones that had lost the 2003 case, this was the break they had been looking for. They knew he was telling lies and using bully tactics, he had done this at the former trial. Luckily, the Commander is now serving four years in jail for attempting to pervert the course of justice and trying to frame a man on a fabricated charge.

Case 418 - Race-Hate mail Officer sacked from Force

METROPOLITAN POLICE SERGEANT GURPI VIRDI was unmasked as the mysterious ender of racist hate mail to 18 colleagues (and himself - in order to throw off suspicion). His campaign against officers and civilian staff at Ealing Police base was proven and accepted by a disciplinary panel.

Case 419 - Chief Inspector dismissed after car offences

POLICE CHIEF INSPECTOR COLIN HALLINAN of the North Yorkshire Constabulary was fired from his job after admitting a list of driving offences. He appeared before the court for driving a car without the proper registration plates, without an MOT or tax disc and was fined £200. His career of 23 years came to an end over driving offences, but years earlier he was involved in a scandal that cost the force £1 million. He was at the time disciplined after reports of harassment of women officers and bizarre rituals at the Harrogate Police Station in 1992. The women colleagues received cash payouts in out-of-court settlements.

Case 420 - Theft Cop is jailed for nine months

POLICE CONSTABLE MICHAEL POWELL, a 23 year serving cop in The West Midlands Police was jailed for nine months for stealing £10,000 from a social club over five years to fund a gambling addiction. Powell was the treasurer at the police social club in Willenhall it was said at Wolverhampton Crown Court.

Case 421 - Police Officer jailed for theft on pensioner

POLICE CONSTABLE KEN DAVIES of the West Yorkshire Police was jailed for nine months after stealing £700 of life-savings from 80 year-old Doris Midwood. He appeared before the Leeds Crown Court. He visited the pensioner as part of a crime prevention task, and told her to put the money in a tin in the cupboard, but while she was out of the room he he took the cash from the tin. The £700 was found hidden under clothes at his Bradford home.

Case 422 - Chief Super launching corruption clean-up resigns

CHIEF SUPERINTENDENT ROBERT TURNBULL - Deputy Chief Constable of the Cleveland Cops suddenly quit the force after a 999 call was made from his home. Turnbull actually sacked Ray Mallon the 'zero tolerance' cop earlier as he launched a corruption probe into detectives at the Middlesbrough base.

Case 423 - Merseyside Detective Chief charged with corruption

CHIEF INSPECTOR ANTHONY DOYLE, the Deputy head of the Merseyside Drugs Squad was arrested in a raid at his home. He appeared at Liverpool Crown Court on 24 charges under the prevention of corruption act. TWO OTHER OFFICERS ALSO ARRESTED AT THE SAME TIME have been charged

Case 424 - Police Sergeant is nailed by video evidence

COCKY POLICE SERGEANT IAN VALE who boasted that fellow cops know only what I tell them, was caught on video by a vice girl who was co-operating with a Scotland Yard Anti-corruption unit. Vale was blackmailing the girls and taking cash so that he remained silent and kept other cops away. Sergeant Vale of the Met Police was jailed for eight years.

Case 425 - Detective Inspector on theft charges

DETECTIVE CONSTABLE BRENDON WHITEHEAD of the Middlesbrough Constabulary was charged with theft of items from his own police station. This concerned two recovered stolen boilers for central heating. One was fitted at the home of Russ Daghish -- DETECTIVE INSPECTOR RUSS DAGLISH who was also arrested and charged with handling stolen goods. Incidentally, Daghish shared this luxury home with partner SALLY ANN KNOWLES A LAWYER WITH THE CROWN PROSECUTION SERVICE.

Case 426 - Booze smuggling detectives fined

DETECTIVE SERGEANT JIM McSORLEY AND DETECTIVE CONSTABLE DAVE BROWN with the Middlesborough Police Force stripped out a van so that it would contain a huge booze haul. The illegal trip to France resulted in a stash of contraband spirits, beer and cigarettes which they drove through customs at Dover without declaring it- and only declaring they were cops. As a result the two officers were fined £1000 by the Customs. Officers in customs reckoned the pair had made around 12 trips to Calais without being stopped on the way back. The booze and cigarettes were sold cheaply to other cops in the station. Apparently, the two appeared before the resigning chief Robert Turnbull who is featured earlier.

Case 427 - Chief Inspector charged with theft

WOMAN POLICE OFFICER CHIEF INSPECTOR KIM MOLLOY of The Nottingham Police Force was charged with shoplifting at a Tesco store. The officer of 20 years standing was said to have stolen cosmetics to the value of £12.72.

Case 428 - Cop passes information to suspect criminals

POLICE OFFICER CHARLES FLETCHER OF THE NOTTINGHAMSHIRE FORCE was sent to jail for using police computer data to benefit suspects in the murder of Nottingham jeweller Marian Bates. Fletcher was also using data to pass onto other outside contacts in return for favours.

Case 429 - Detective uses unmarked car for seaside trips

AN UN-NAMED WEST YORKSHIRE DETECTIVE IS DISMISSED FROM FORCE after it was discovered he was using his unmarked car to take family and friends to the seaside and other trips. The officer based in Leeds was only caught because the car had a 'bug' attached as this officer was being investigated for corruption. His colleague with the same crime unit was suspended for taking bribes from an informant who provided information about drug dealing in the city.

Case 430 - Council of Europe investigates the UK Police

AMID DISSATISFACTION OF THE U.K.POLICE and the complaints of failure to carry out proper disciplinary procedures, THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED UNDER THE 1987 EUROPEAN CONVENTION FOR THE PREVENTION OF TORTURE AND INHUMAN OR DEGRADING TREATMENT OR PUNISHMENT began an investigation into ill-treatment to suspects by the UK Police. This follows three successful high court challenges. This involves deaths in custody, a problem that the UK police hoped would go away after many such incidents in the 1980's. One case they were looking at involved torture by police officers. The Crown Prosecution Service were yet again criticised over decisions not to pursue ill-treatment prosecutions of officers - one high court challenge was against the Director of Public Prosecutions.

The Committee which was not happy with the way the CPS conducted cases of police torture accusations is authorised to carry out broader ranging investigations into police discipline. They are to examine why a significant number of police officers escape disciplinary charges, despite jury awards of damages to claimants in civil cases for assault, malicious prosecution and false imprisonment. They said there were huge failings in the Crown Prosecution Service who seemed to fail the public in the evidence of clear wrong-doing by police officers and attempted cover-ups by police authorities trying to ignore the problem. The Commission intends to inspect documents of the relevant police areas, the police complaints authority and the Crown Prosecution Service. 'We are not here specifically to look into police corruption, but it is an issue that needs serious tackling in the U.K.' said one spokesperson.

Case 431 - Complaints Authority not fit for purpose

LORD BONHAM-CARTER was once alarmed about the failure to discipline police, which spurred him onto putting pen to paper in the public domain. One particular case of a fabricated confession involving Anthony O'Callaghan and a subsequent damages award of £30,000. He had spent 76 days in custody before being acquitted, and suffered an 'horrific experience'. The Case Judge, Mr Justice Brooke said that the verdict by the jury decided that the police had 'cooked up the confessions' --- but even this had led to no prosecutions being brought against the police officers, nor had the Authority recommended any disciplinary hearings!

He quoted the Case of Roc Sandford. a man charged with having cannabis who was arrested by Met Police during a licensing raid on a Soho club. He was acquitted at Knightsbridge Crown Court....the jury was out for 15 minutes.....and he was awarded £15,000 costs out of police funds, plus £10,000 damages and £4,000 costs in settlement of a civil case for wrongful arrest, false imprisonment and malicious prosecution. The Barrister for Mr Sandford said 'the drugs came from a stock of drugs kept at West End Central for the purpose of planting on people' Six other cases of drug possession were dropped by the police....with no disciplinary action against any officer despite accounts of malpractice by the police.

Case 432 - Two cops on forgery charges

WEST MIDLANDS POLICE OFFICERS STEVEN BAKEWELL and MICHAEL SABIN were charged with forgery after falsifying detection figures. The charges relate to documents filed in the year 1995 and 1996. Both officers were bailed after appearing at Birmingham Crown Court.

Case 433 - Cop raped nurse in police section house

POLICE CONSTABLE BARRY BYRNE of the Met Police assaulted the nurse during a party. The hospital worker refused his advances yet the constable refused to abide by her words of No, he went ahead and raped her. The trial continues.

Case 434 - Cop runs over pensioner's body in the road

POLICE CONSTABLE CHRISTOPHER JAYNE of the South Wales force was fined £180 for careless driving by magistrates at Abergavenny. It is not known whether the pensioner was already dead when the constable drove over him. Blood was found on the tyres of the officer's car but no impact evidence.

Case 435 - Off-Duty Police Officer rapes woman

MERSEYSIDE POLICE CONSTABLE ROY FRASER was charged with raping a woman. He appeared before the magistrate's court and given bail. He was arrested by other officers at his home after the incident. He has been suspended but police declined to give any details or information.

Case 436 - Porn video seen by children in a Merseyside Police Station

CHILDREN WAITING IN A FORMBY POLICE STATION IN MERSEYSIDE claim they saw pornographic material after one of the two children turned on a TV in the interview room. Both children were put there after being collected in a truancy round-up. The Police Complaints Authority launched an investigation into the matter.

Case 437 - Lawyer tells of threat by Police Chief

BIRMINGHAM SOLICITOR Mr Steven Jonas told reporters and the court that after he'd made bail applications for his client, he was approached and confronted by Detective Chief inspector David Speake who appeared to be extremely annoyed. 'He marched up to me and told me he had reported me to the Chief Constable and to the DPP for getting access to my client. He came right up to me and waved his finger at me saying 'I will get you for this'

Case 438 - Wrongful arrest Cops payout £4,112 to Magistrate

MAGISTRATE DOUGLAS FENN accused Police of making up lies after conducting a 'spy mission on a Public Toilet' The magistrate who was arrested for Indecency with a young Asian man said it was obvious they were getting bored having not found anyone to arrest, and they justified this by trying to take me out. They took their chance and hoped their evidence would stand up said the magistrate who regularly sat at Barking Magistrates Court. His lawyer Gary Jacobs said the officers' evidence was not believable nor could it stand up to scrutiny. 'Distance and vantage point meant that in no way could an officer see what they alleged' The court found Mr Fenn not guilty and ordered police to pay costs of £4,112.

Case 439 - Public Relations Award to Cops in bad taste and insensitive

NORTHUMBRIA POLICE slammed by parents of a child who was killed by patrol car in Newcastle, nominated themselves for a Chartered Institute of Public Relations Award over the handling of Hayley Adamson's death when a police officer ran into her. The un-named officer was jailed for three years, yet the police think they are qualified to claim they did a good job?

Case 440 - Cop fails in his appeal against jail sentence

DISGRACED COP ALISTAIR STRACHAN a Dundee police officer began his 18 month jail sentence for an assault after judges at the Edinburgh Appeal Court threw out his appeal against a sentence awarded at another court for what was described as 'an awful ordeal on a terrifying car trip took place in which he punched and stripped 23 year old Vanda Allan.'

Case 441 - Police Constable on Rape Charge

POLICE CONSTABLE IAN AMADO-TAYLOR with the Cumbria Police faced rape charges at Carlisle Crown Court. He was charged with raping an 18-year-old virgin girl, and later assaulted another girl aged 19 and to have raped a third girl of 19. The police officer is said to have resigned from the force.

Case 442 - Drug Cops do a bit of stealing

DETECTIVE CONSTABLE THOMAS KINGSTON, DETECTIVE THOMAS REYNOLDS, DETECTIVE TERENCE O CONNOR appeared before the court charged with stealing drugs which had been seized in a raid. They then put these drugs out for sale for financial gain said the prosecutor. A fourth DETECTIVE CONSTABLE NEIL PUTNAM turned 'queens evidence' and testified against his three colleagues even though he had been involved. He received a reduced sentence and went to jail for four years. The London officers in the South East Region were to be sentenced later.

Case 443 - Cop charged over making malicious phone calls

GREENWICH POLICE CONSTABLE GARY PORTER was suspended and charged over making sexual and malicious phone calls to around a dozen women. The young women said that they had been bombarded by calls from the cop over a period of six years. He was found out when they were traced to his mobile phone.

Case 444 - Drug Cop faces ten charges'

DETECTIVE CONSTABLE BREAKWELL has been mentioned in a High Court writ by two officers who are suing the force along with ten charges including selling heroin, discreditable conduct and neglect of duties. The cop even appeared on tv in a Panorama show. He was investigated during 'operation Gunter' which was looking into what was happening with drugs and money seized in raids.

Case 445 - Grope Cop appears before Crown Court

POLICE CONSTABLE EIFION NICHOLAS appeared before Swansea Crown Court on sexual charges connected with a search on a woman went on to become an arrestable offence. The offence is said to have taken place at the police station.

Case 446 - Blackmailed Cop stole £90,000 from friends and colleagues

SENIOR POLICE OFFICER BARRY MASON was jailed for 18 months by a court after hearing how he stole money from those around him in order to pay £1,000 a month to a loyalist order in Ulster over a period of five years.

Case 447 - Indecent Assault Cop is Jailed

ACTING POLICE SERGEANT DAVID CARSON was jailed for four months after indecently assaulting two WPC's. The officer based at Bethel Street Police Station, Norwich appeared before Ipswich Crown Court. Carson, an officer with commendations touched up the fellow police officers; one in a patrol car while he was talking about sex. The other was in the station office where he demanded sex from her.

Case 448 - Cop tries to swindle investigated jockey

FORMER DETECTIVE SERGEANT ROBERT HARRINGTON approached jockey Jamie Osborne and suggested he pay £2,500 to get an inquiry dropped over price-fixing in horse racing. Osborne phoned his lawyers who brought in the police. Harrington was charged with deception and corruption.

Case 449 - Two cops jailed over torture of girl

POLICE CONSTABLE JASON HARVEY and POLICE SERGEANT ANDREW KENNEDY were jailed over an incident involving two girls. Harvey, who had a previous conviction for assaulting a suspect grabbed one of the girls by the hair and handcuffed her whilst threatening to rip her head off. The incident happened in Manchester City Centre. Harvey was jailed for 18 months and Kennedy, who watched and did nothing was also jailed for misconduct in public office. Kennedy was an officer who had served on the force for 27 years.

Case 450 - Death Crash Inspector over the limit

FORMER POLICE INSPECTOR KEITH BRIDGES said he felt in control when the car smash in France killed his wife and three passengers. The French police found that he was twice over the limit. He faced charges of manslaughter, drink-driving and speeding. The Avon and Somerset officer was partying with a fellow policeman Anthony Fuller before driving, Fuller lives in France and lots of drinking had taken place.

Case 451 - Boozing Party Cops ignore 999 call out

Humberside Police are conducting an internal inquiry into the behaviour of the police in Hessle, East Yorkshire after a shopkeeper tried to apprehend thieves at his shop and on stopping a patrol car got the reply 'call the cops'. Graham Taylor rang 999 and the station assured him that they were on their way. When no one turned up he went to the station and found there was a police party in progress. Humberside police said 'professional standards are probing the matter.'

Case 452 - Cops leave list of banned drivers in pub bar

South London Police having a drink in an Earlsfield Public House left a confidential file listing banned drink drivers tucked in a newspaper on a table in the bar. The Three page list had offenders names, addresses, registrations and other data from court records said Steve Blackshaw who found the file after the officers left the Pub. On returning it to the local police station, the cop behind the desk said 'It's just one of those things!'

Case 453 - Frame-up kit carried in patrol car

THE FLYING SQUAD CARRIES FRAME-UP KIT JUST IN CASE? It was discovered that cars driven by the elite squad often carried a kit of imitation guns, masks and burglary tools when they went out on operations such as stakeouts, raids and ambushes. It is said they were there to bolster evidence against suspects so that convictions could be more successful. It was also used in case they shot an unarmed suspect in which case a gun was planted so they could say the suspect pointed a gun at an officer -- this would justify opening fire. Three cases have been reopened and are going to the Court of Appeal based on the officers who arrested them. The Internal Investigation unit are said to be looking into allegations of corruption.

Case 454 - Jail sentences for two thug cops

POLICE CONSTABLE STEVE WATSON and POLICE CONSTABLE BARRY VARDON were jailed for three months each after a court watched video evidence of the officers beating up Peter Crane of Bedford. They handcuffed him and carried on with the brutal assault just minutes after he had been running away from a gang of ten men who came after him and a friend. Peter was beaten, but managed to run. On seeing the two cops he thought he was in safe hands, but this turned out so wrong and in some ways was a lot worse. Peter suffered a broken nose, a black eye and multiple bruising to his body, he was also held for 18 hours in a cell. The officers had the cheek to charge him with assaulting them and fabricated statements to support this with colleagues. After magistrates saw the video, they dismissed the charges and jailed the two officers. Both officers were ordered to pay him £500 compensation. Peter is planning to sue the Bedfordshire Police. His father, an ex-cop was shocked, he said 'when I saw the video it looked like a scene from the Rodney King beating in the USA.'

Case 455 - £70 million on policing quango

The National Policing Improvements Agency spent over £70 million of taxpayers money hiring consultants who wanted £71.4 million for their services. The agency said a tight funding settlement and a wide and complex portfolio of inherited activities posed difficulties in the early days of establishing the new agency?

Case 456 - Cops join in the expenses game

SARA THORNTON CHIEF CONSTABLE OF THE THAMES VALLEY POLICE claimed £135 the cost of hiring a suit for her partner, despite earning £150,000 a year. Miss Thornton also claimed £1,887.70 in other expenses. The CHIEF CONSTABLE OF HAMPSHIRE, ALEX MARSHALL claimed £357.90p for food and 50p for a car park ticket. ASSISTANT CHIEF CONSTABLE BRIAN LANGSTON who earns £89,106 a year claimed expenses of £2,588.55 which included £245 to paint his home. Thames Valley Police claimed it was all allowed within regulations.

Case 457 - The Cops, the Stork Club, and Spanking Sessions

This could be a case of morals in high places? The Stork Club in London offered the right kind of service to the police. Hostess Charlotte told the reporter 'We get the police in here all the time, we have to look after them or we would get closed down for prostitution.' On the private list is sex, oral sex and a caning at £250. The policeman punters allow us to operate so long as we tend to their needs first. We also serve champagne and sandwiches she said. She was then joined by Diane who mentioned that there was a fee of £50 for the agency.

Case 458 - Solicitor hits out at Uncivil, rude and dismissive Police

LAWYER PETER LAWRENCE hit out at the North Yorkshire Police describing their attitude as uncivil, rude and dismissive when dealing with the public. This outburst of ill-feeling was over the poor way the investigation into the disappearance of his daughter was going. He said there was also a lack of openness' and excessive secrecy in the way they chose who, what and where they were willing to discuss things. THE NATIONAL POLICING IMPROVEMENT AGENCY has been brought in for a second time to carry out a review of the investigation?

It's taken this solicitor some time to realize the attitude the police have throughout all the separate forces, one would have thought he'd seen it in his dealings with them at some stage earlier. This laughable National Policing Improvement Agency must be a joke, to improve the police would take a miracle?

SO AS THE POLICE DON'T GET THE IDEA THAT IT'S ONLY THE JUDGES AND LAWYERS INTO KINKY SPANKING WE LIST A FEW OF THE COPS THAT ARE INTO IT TOO.

Case 459 - Cop in spanking and vice show

POLICE CONSTABLE BOB STEVENSON performed in show thrashing a drunken T A Soldier's buttocks with a belt, stripping girls and finishing it all off with squirty cream. The cop who worked at Slough Police Station in Berkshire collected cash for the show that was held at the Rose Public house in Maidenhead. The cop told the reporter he could provide and arrange anything at a price.

Case 460 - Police Constable stole to get books on spanking

COP GRAHAM FEARON was jailed for three years by Wakefield Crown Court for committing offences of theft and burglary. He admitted to assaulting two eleven-year old boys and smacking their bottoms after catching them in a derelict building. A search of his home revealed a mountain of spanking magazines and pictures of corporal punishment. The court heard how he embarked on theft in order to get extra cash for his fetish.

Case 461 - Two Cops suspended over caning antics

A POLICE CONSTABLE AND POLICE WOMAN were suspended after colleagues raided a health club suspected of allowing kinky sex sessions. The officers were removed and remain un-named after owner Monica Shenton who was fined £500 said the male officer enjoyed being caned. The two officers from Stoke-on-Trent were to be interviewed over their involvement at the Sunsplash Centre.

Case 462 - Spanking Cop faces dismissal

POLICE CONSTABLE DAVID BELLWOOD faced dismissal for 'neglecting his duties and bringing discredit to the force' after he was discovered to be having kinky romps with Carol Conway whilst on his beat as a community policeman. Neighbours would see his patrol car parked outside the girl's house in Biggleswade, Bedfordshire. Neighbours were well aware of Bellwood's spanking games and Bellwood was brought to book when Carol found out he was having another affair. Bellwood was already married.

Case 463 - Police Sergeant told Massage girl to spank him

SERGEANT ALAN BURTON was giving evidence at court when it was revealed that he asked the girl to give him a lesson in correction and said he'd like a good smacking. She said I told him I could not do it in the parlour because the walls were too thin. Acton Crown Court heard that the Sergeant was doing it for evidence and mentioned spanking to withdraw from the Orchid Club. This was denied by the girl who said 'he knew what he said because we don't offer that kind of service.'

Case 464 - WPC performed in spanking videos

COP SARAH ALLAM was hiding her own secret as she helped nail a racist cop - John Blott of the Cleveland Police. Sarah was involved in a World Tickets Scam when it was revealed that she appeared in spanking videos and took pills. Sarah admitted to doing blue movies as a sideline and intended to resign after the news was printed despite the force being overjoyed that vile cop Blatt faced a long jail sentence.

Case 465 - Cop beat boys buttocks because he liked it

BURLY COP PAUL KEANEY enjoyed spanking and caning youngsters so much so that he managed to go undetected. The facts came to light when he left the force and ran a home for boys. It was found out that for years he beat boy's bare bottoms regularly for the slightest offence, but no-one dared speak out. The many accounts were exposed by a diary of one boy and the seizing of diaries belonging to

Case 466 - Motorcycle Cop approached girls to smack their bottoms

POLICE CONSTABLE PETER BREWER of the Met Police resigned from the force just as he was about to face an inquiry. It was said that the motorcycle cop pulled alongside cars that had women in them and made sexual innuendos about spanking and naughty girls. One young woman came forward and said the cop flagged her down three times a week saying 'You know you've been a naughty girl, and naughty girls get their bottoms smacked.' The cop from Hayes, declined to answer questions by investigators and sent them a written statement in his resignation.

Case 467 - Child Cop Protection Officer in Porn Movie Inquiry

DETECTIVE INSPECTOR PETER HILL of the Child Protection Team was suspended after it was discovered he copied seized pornographic videos on a machine in his own office. The porn movies were ordered to be destroyed after cases, but the inspector secretly copied them for himself. The Detective from the team at Northwood, Middlesex, was immediately suspended and a search of his home produced a cache of porn videos.

Case 468 - Cops regular clients at Spanking Club

THE STORK CLUB in London are proud to disclose that they have many police customers, Charlotte said to the reporter --'We get police in here all the time, we have to look after them or we would get closed down for prostitution in seconds.' A good time is offered said Charlotte, 'sex, oral sex and a caning, all for £250 a time.' Susse's provided Sophie on a personal service, and she told us 'I get all sorts really, but richer all sorts in the main and I've even got policemen punters.'

Case 469 - Corruption Case backfires on police

HERTFORDSHIRE POLICE - namely DETECTIVE CHIEF INSPECTOR GRAHAM HUNT and DETECTIVE SUPERINTENDENT STEPHEN READ accused and arrested Journalist Neville Thurlbeck on a charge of corruption involving one of their own officers - DETECTIVE CONSTABLE RICHARD FARMER, who they said had taken payment from the journalist to gain computer information. Neville Thurlbeck was thrown into a cell and had papers and computer equipment seized. The incompetent officers failed to find out that the journalist was registered with the National Criminal Intelligence Service.

PROSECUTION CPS LAWYER STEPHEN KRAMER QC conducted the case knowing 'there is no direct evidence of payment from Thurlbeck to Farmer' it was all based on circumstantial mishandling.

The trial was wound up at Luton Crown Court halfway through at a staggering cost of £1.2million, and what of the officers who should have been on charges of perverting the course of justice or misconduct in public office? nothing! they simply walked away!

Case 470 - Cop uses the law to conceal the truth

SERGEANT TERENCE CLARKSON may appear to be a fine upstanding officer of the law to some, but this Hampshire cop places little value on truth and relies on the tactics of 'masquerade' when silencing a foe. This officer used an event to make himself look like an innocent party -- easily done when you know you have driven the man you laugh at to desperate lengths. Concealing his own actions using the blue uniform has been done by many cops listed on this page and in the bent cop list -- and they all cry 'innocent' Ex-Royal Navy Lieutenant Commander Andrew Goodhall doesn't just attack a cop, -- a sergeant and risk everything, no, there is more to this Sergeant Clarkson than meets the eye. Perhaps if we send our Private Investigator Richard Barrymore to look into his past, there may be some worms that have not seen the light of day. Mr. Goodhall outranks this cop in a pro rata point of view, and it is sad or possibly convenient to the police and CPS that the Navy were not present to dispel the battering the prosecution made. Knowing the CPS they could have actually tampered with this side of things and made calls to the Navy to steer clear and offer no character references, thus making a clear position to having the man discredited and seen as a pathetic accuser. CPS Lawyers are by nature - liars.

Case 471 - Racist Cops face inquiry over conduct in case

LANCASHIRE POLICE were to be investigated over claims that they allowed thugs to conduct a campaign of racial violence against shopkeeper Mal Hussein. Despite being attacked regularly, on one occasion he was being punched by two men, the police actually charged him with intent to cause grievous bodily harm when all he was doing was to try and protect his home. Hundreds of incidents were logged with the police over a period of two years -- and all the police had to say was -- 'we were a little slow on the uptake'. The Hussein's were finally forced to move in order to escape the frequent attacks, the police got away with their attitude again!!

Case 472 - Cops make up their own laws

H. JONES of SWANSEA said 'I have seen police regularly speeding along roads and motorways while talking into a mobile, radio and handset. I was not aware of any exemption in the law for police officers regarding being in proper control of a moving vehicle.'

Case 473 - How to bribe the Cops

LAURIE TAYLOR went undercover in the criminal world, aided by John Mc Vicar for support. He visited THE ALBION a pub in Ludgate Circus, London. Two cops were involved in a scuffle on the floor, the cops were - DETECTIVE SUPERINTENDENT JOHN KEANE and DETECTIVE INSPECTOR BERNARD GENT. Although they resembled average villains, they got to their feet and said 'Don't worry, we're cops'.

KEANE'S scuffle on the floor with Gent concerned the snatching of a tape recorder from Inspector Gent who had this machine in his pocket. The scuffle followed an agreement of accepting a £10,000 bribe in return for doing his best to secure the release of a man involved in a robbery.

It emerged at The Old Bailey, that Superintendent Keane knew the suspect rather well and subsequently phoned Bernard Gent to meet him so that he could find out 'if anything could be arranged'. Gent was the officer in charge of the case.

Police Corruption allegations were hardly sensational at the time, plenty of it was going on if you knew where to look, -- and if a criminal mentioned he'd paid 'two grand' it was no surprise.

DETECTIVE SUPERINTENDENT GOT THREE YEARS FOR CORRUPTION.

Case 474 - Former Cop tells of colleagues who used confiscated drugs

MET COP GREG SIMPSON told reporters how colleagues smoked cannabis, took ecstasy tablets and cocaine from bundles that were kept in the evidence lockers. he said 'now that I have left the force there is nothing to stop me telling you that we used to take the drugs off the kids and keep it for ourselves. When things were a bit thin on the ground we'd organise a locker raid, but one had to be discreet and careful.' I used to smoke cannabis at the police section house and nobody really cared. I became quite addicted to the drugs and in the end there were a number of cops who regularly stole and took bribes to get a fix. The top brass never knew, even though they often claim they know everything, it's rubbish really, we always dodged them and kept it between a few of us. I was never caught doing drugs, but I was caught drink/driving and left the force voluntarily.'

Case 475 - Fraud Office Cops Forge letter

It has been revealed that a second forged letter by a Fraud Office Policeman - the letter said to have come from a London Solicitor David Freeman, suggested that his client Mr. Virani might jump bail on fraud charges. Inquiries prompted by Alex Carlisle a QC has shown the letters were prepared by one or more police officers who were then working as part of the SFO. The fake letters were spotted only when they were to be entered into the courtroom. The Attorney General Sir Nicholas Lyell requested that the SFO boss explain the fake letters.
